

GLOUCESTER BUSINESS PARK LINE ROAD, HUCCLECOTE (Gloucestershire)

SO 8824 1700 to SO 8838 1742

The site at Gloucester Business Park Line Road sits near Hucclecote, Gloucestershire in the Severn Valley close to the Horsbere Brook and overlies the Lower Lias beds (Thomas et al. 2003). Cotswold Archaeological Trust carried out excavations at the site in 1998 and 2002 in advance of road construction (Thomas et al. 2003, 3). The excavations revealed occupation evidence at the site during the Late Bronze Age to the Middle Iron Age (Thomas et al. 2003, 9). The occupation evidence consists largely of four or possibly five roundhouses, linear boundaries and a single inhumation burial (Thomas et al. 2003, 9-11). The inhumation lies over 100 metres away from the domestic structures and is the only Iron Age human remains recovered from this archaeological investigation. Tony Waldron conducted the osteological analysis of the human remains.
