

Contents

| | |
|---|--------------|
| List of Figures | ix |
| List of Tables | xvii |
| Abstract | xviii |
| 1. Introduction | 1 |
| Outline of Investigation..... | 1 |
| The Aegean Context..... | 2 |
| Identifying Images in the Text | 4 |
| 2. Relevant Previous Research | 13 |
| Gesture in the Aegean | 13 |
| Figurines..... | 13 |
| Gestures of Ecstasy?..... | 13 |
| Glyptics | 16 |
| Frescoes..... | 17 |
| Gender Identification..... | 18 |
| Binary Divisions of Gender?..... | 21 |
| The ‘Mother Goddess’ Influence..... | 24 |
| Assignment of ‘Traditional’ Activities to Males and Females..... | 27 |
| Gender Segregation? | 27 |
| Plant-Gathering as Status-Imbued?..... | 28 |
| The Link Between Females and Child-Care | 29 |
| Textile Production | 31 |
| The ‘Domestic’ Context | 33 |
| Male-Focused Perspective..... | 35 |
| Age and Gender | 36 |
| Some Concluding Observations..... | 39 |
| 3. A Theoretical Framework for Analysis | 41 |
| The Relationship Between Image, Subject and Viewer..... | 41 |
| Image as Sign | 41 |
| The Importance of the Human Image..... | 41 |
| The Audience..... | 42 |
| Was there a Different Prehistoric Understanding of Perception?..... | 42 |
| Which Gender did the Viewing? Can We Know and does it Matter? | 43 |
| Image as Metaphor | 44 |
| Gesture, Art and Iconography | 45 |
| What Gesture and Proxemics Might Mean Outside the Image..... | 48 |
| The Ethological Model..... | 49 |
| The Sociological Model | 51 |
| The Linguistic Model | 52 |
| The Importance of Gestural Behaviour and Proxemics as Status Indicators in Orientation, Ceremony and Ritual, and Spatial Behaviour | 54 |
| 4. A Methodology and the Material Examined | 59 |
| How Gender will be Understood and Interpreted | 59 |
| A Grounded Theory Approach..... | 59 |
| The Structural-Iconographic Framework for Analysis | 60 |
| Technical, Crafting, Stylistic, and Material Considerations | 64 |
| The Material Analysed | 65 |
| The Frescoes..... | 66 |
| The Glyptics | 68 |
| Three-Dimensional Miscellaneous Artefacts | 72 |
| Supplementary Material Including Figurines..... | 74 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| Past And Present Problems with the Evidence..... | 75 |
| General | 75 |
| Misleading Reconstructions of the Material | 75 |
| Misleading Drawings | 75 |
| Gender Attributes Identified..... | 80 |
| The Issue of Skin Colour..... | 84 |
| 5. Are There Gender-Distinct Activities? | 85 |
| Objects Held as Indicative of Perceived Social Roles | 85 |
| Objects and Inter-Personal Relationships | 96 |
| 6. The Ways Bodies Occupy Their Surrounding Space | 101 |
| Contained or Expanding Body Shapes Within the Picture Frame: Are There Gender Differences? | 101 |
| ‘Uncontrolled’ Postures: Are These Gender Specific? | 107 |
| Conclusion..... | 110 |
| 7. In What Ways Do Figures Orientate Towards Each Other? | 113 |
| Preliminary Considerations..... | 113 |
| Some Basic Assumptions | 113 |
| Male-to-Male Orientation | 114 |
| Female-to-Female Orientation | 119 |
| Mixed Gender Orientation | 125 |
| Females More Dominant..... | 127 |
| Neither Gender Dominant | 127 |
| Mutual Orientation or Males Dominating? | 128 |
| Some Concluding Observations about Orientation..... | 133 |
| 8. Can the Seating of Figures Reveal Anything About Gender Status? | 135 |
| The Approach..... | 135 |
| The Artefacts Analysed | 135 |
| Where and When These Seated Figures were Viewed..... | 135 |
| Gender of Figures Identified | 137 |
| Kinds of Seating Used..... | 139 |
| Special Chairs..... | 142 |
| Other People in Relation to the Seated Figure..... | 144 |
| Conclusion..... | 152 |
| 9. What Might an Examination of Processions Reveal?..... | 153 |
| The Nature of Processions | 153 |
| Elements Identifiable in Processions..... | 153 |
| Gender Distinctions..... | 160 |
| Female-only Processions..... | 160 |
| Mixed Gender Processions..... | 166 |
| Some Concluding Observations | 170 |
| 10. Conclusion | 173 |
| References..... | 177 |

Appendices I, II and III, additional tables and illustration of Part II are available as an accompanying download