

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	v
Table of Contents	vii
List of Figures	xi
List of Tables and Graphs	xiii
Dating Conversions and Abbreviations	xv
Journal Abbreviations	xvii
Publication Abbreviations	xix
Other Abbreviations	xxiii
Image and Text Credits	xxv
Addendum	xxvii

Part One	Research and Analysis	1-117
Chapter 1	Introduction	1
1.1	Preamble	1
1.2	Literature Review	1
1.3	Selection of Theme	1
1.4	Review of Current Scholarship	1
1.5	The Case for a Micro-Analytical Approach	2
1.6	Scope of the Investigation	2
1.7	Indicative Results of the Investigation	2
1.8	Research Methodology	3
1.9	Limitations of the Study	3
Chapter 2	The Scenes in Context	4
2.1	Overview of Corpus	4
2.1.1	Definitions	4
2.1.2	Distribution of Corpus Scenes	4
2.1.3	Hierarchy of Industries	4
2.2	Setting	4
2.2.1	Context of Workshop Products	4
2.2.2	Workshops of the Estates	8
2.2.3	Character and Organisation of Estate Workshops	8
2.2.4	Other Types of Workshops	8
2.2.5	Absence of Personnel Identifications	9
2.2.6	Identification of State Personnel	9
2.2.7	Identification of Palace Personnel	10
2.2.8	Role and Distribution of Personnel Identifications	10
2.3	Correlation Between Scene Type, Content and Title	11
2.3.1	Social Distribution of Workshop Scenes	11
2.3.2	Common Titles Related to Workshop Activities	11
2.3.3	Nominal v. Substantive Titles	11
2.3.4	Impact of Workshop Titles on Scene Selection	13
2.3.5	Impact of Other Titles on Scene Selection	14
2.3.6	Impact of Status on Scene Innovation	15
2.4	Location of Scenes	15
2.4.1	Location Relative to Chapel Type	15
2.4.2	Impact of Other Factors on Patterns of Placement	17
2.4.3	Placement in Areas of High Visibility	18
2.4.4	Placement Adjacent to Key Architectural Elements	18
2.4.5	Summary of Factors Influencing Scene Placement	19

Chapter 3	The Scenes in Focus	20
3.1	Boat Building	20
3.1.1	Overview	20
3.1.2	Identification of Personnel	20
3.1.3	Identification of Materials	21
3.1.4	Common Procedures	21-34
3.2	Carpentry	35
3.2.1	Overview	35
3.2.2	Identification of Personnel	35
3.2.3	Identification of Materials	35
3.2.4	Common Procedures	36-46
3.3	Jewellery Making	47
3.3.1	Overview	47
3.3.2	Identification of Personnel	47
3.3.3	Identification of Materials	47
3.3.4	Common Procedures	47-54
3.4	Leatherwork	55
3.4.1	Overview	55
3.4.2	Identification of Personnel	55
3.4.3	Identification of Materials	55
3.4.4	Common Procedures	55-59
3.5	Metalwork	60
3.5.1	Overview	60
3.5.2	Identification of Personnel	60
3.5.3	Identification of Materials	60
3.5.4	Common Procedures	61-72
3.6	Sculpture	73
3.6.1	Overview	73
3.6.2	Identification of Personnel	73
3.6.3	Identification of Materials	74
3.6.4	Common Procedures	75-81
3.7	Stone Vessel Making	82
3.7.1	Overview	82
3.7.2	Identification of Personnel	82
3.7.3	Identification of Materials	82
3.7.4	Common Procedures	82-87
Chapter 4	The Texts	88
4.1	Text Types	88
4.1.1	Function of Texts	88
4.1.2	Summary of Text Types	88
4.2	Analysis of Structure, Content and Purpose	89
4.2.1	Overview	89
4.2.2	Generic Identification of Figures and Objects	95
4.2.3	General v. Explicit Texts	95
4.2.4	Texts as Informers of Technical Procedures	98
4.2.5	Informative Role of Observation Texts	98
4.2.6	Use of Idioms and Invocations	98
4.2.7	Texts Emphasising Speed	104
4.2.8	Texts Emphasising Efficiency and Teamwork	104
4.2.9	Texts Reflecting Concern for Quality	105
4.2.10	Texts Related to Workshop Organisation	105

4.2.11	Texts Describing the Finished Product	107
4.2.12	Expressions of Praise and Reprimands	107
4.3	Conclusions	107
4.3.1	Role of Texts	107
4.3.2	Geographical and Temporal Distribution of Texts	107
4.3.3	Generic v. Specific Identification of Personnel	107
4.3.4	Stand-Alone v. Extended Texts	108
4.3.5	Use of Texts as Dating Criteria	108
4.3.6	Text, Image and Selective Captioning	109
Chapter 5	Conclusions	110
5.1	Objectives	110
5.1.1	Summary	110
5.2	Findings Pertaining to Context	110
5.2.1	Setting and Identification of Personnel	110
5.3	Findings Pertaining to Distribution and Position	110
5.3.1	Ratio of Memphite to Provincial Cemeteries	110
5.3.2	Industry Hierarchy	110
5.3.3	Status of Tomb Owner and Scene Selection	110
5.3.4	Tomb Position	110
5.4	Findings Pertaining to Scene Content	111
5.4.1	Classification of Scenes	111
5.4.2	Methods of Display	111
5.4.3	Methods of Communicating Process	112
5.4.4	Conventional v. Non-Conventional Presentations	113
5.5	Findings Pertaining to Artistic Innovation	113
5.5.1	Summary	113
5.5.2	A Special Case: Tomb MQ1	114
5.6	Findings Pertaining to Scene Inscriptions	115
5.6.1	Text Types and Their Purpose	115
5.7	Concluding Remarks	115
Part Two	Scene Catalogue	119-281
1.1	Explanatory Notes	119
1.2	Definitions	119
1.3	Summary of Catalogue Numbers by Site	119
	[Cat.1] - [Cat.15] Giza
	[Cat.16] - [Cat.18] Abusir
	[Cat.19] - [Cat.37] Saqqara
	[Cat.38] Dahshur
	[Cat.39] Lisht
	[Cat.40] - [Cat.41] Maidum
	[Cat.42] - [Cat.43] Deshashch
	[Cat.44] - [Cat.45] Zawyet el-Amwat
	[Cat.46] El-Sheikh Saïd
	[Cat.47] - [Cat.50] Deir el-Gebrawi
	[Cat.51] Meir
	[Cat.52] - [Cat.53] El-Hammamiya
	[Cat.54] - [Cat.56] El-Hawawish
	[Cat.57] - [Cat.59] El-Khokha
	[Cat.60] Qubbet el-Hawa

1.4	Key to Catalogue Notations	119
1.5	Method of Citation Used in Catalogue	119
Notes		283
Bibliography		303
Appendices		317-442
Appendix 1	Micro-Features in Scenes of Boat Building	319
Appendix 2	Micro-Features in Scenes of Carpentry	332
Appendix 3	Micro-Features in Scenes of Jewellery Making	346
Appendix 4	Micro-Features in Scenes of Leatherwork	355
Appendix 5	Micro-Features in Scenes of Metalwork	359
Appendix 6	Micro-Features in Scenes of Sculpture	374
Appendix 7	Micro-Features in Scenes of Stone Vessel Making	387
Appendix 8	Micro-Features in Workshop Scenes by Catalogue Number	393
Appendix 9	Atypical Scene Types in Workshop Scenes and Occurrences	409
Appendix 10	Atypical Postures in Workshop Scenes and Occurrences	411
Appendix 11	Unique Micro-Features in Workshop Scenes and Occurrences	413
Appendix 12	Micro-Features Common to Multiple Workshop Industries and Occurrences	418
Appendix 13	Compilation of Text Types	422
Index		443-448