

SERIES EDITOR

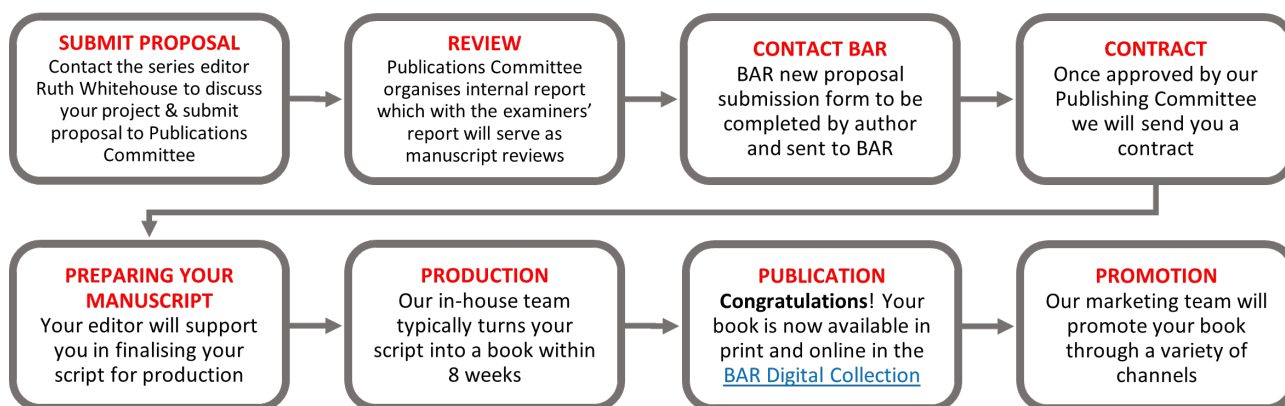

Ruth Whitehouse (Chair of IoA Publications Committee)

The aim of this series is to offer rapid publication of largely unaltered PhDs. It covers the full range of subject areas studied at the Institute, including world archaeology, archaeological science, cultural heritage, conservation and museum studies. It makes data, analyses and interpretation available promptly to a wide audience. Books will be published in print and digital format, and in Open Access on request.

The UCL Institute of Archaeology is one of the oldest, largest and most prestigious archaeology research facilities in the world. Its extensive publications programme includes the best theory, research, pedagogy and reference materials in archaeology, cultural heritage and cognate disciplines. Through its publications, which also include a General Series and a Critical Cultural Heritage series, and a number of associated journals, the Institute brings together key areas of theoretical and substantive knowledge, improves archaeological and heritage practice and brings

Your Route to Publication

Editorial Board

The Editorial Board for this series consists of the following members of the UCL Institute of Archaeology Publications Committee:

Chair (currently Ruth Whitehouse)

Secretary (currently Marion Cutting)

Director of the Institute (currently Kevin MacDonald)

Financial Administrator

Librarian

Six Staff Meeting Representatives

Postdoctoral Research Staff Representative

Representative of the following Institute-based journals: Archaeology International, Public Archaeology, London Archaeologist, Accordia Research Papers

Editor of Papers from the Institute of Archaeology

Research Student Representative

Society of Archaeological Students' Representative

Sales and Marketing

By choosing to publish with BAR – recently awarded PLS Professional and Academic Publisher of the Year 2022 – you benefit from our huge database of booksellers, libraries and individuals built up over 40+ years. Your book will be promoted and sold internationally, both in print and as part of the BAR Digital Collection, the largest collection of academic archaeological research worldwide.

“I think BAR is an essential part of archaeological publishing, with a good balance between national and international.”

Prof. Mike Parker Pearson,
Institute of Archaeology, UCL
Professor of British Later Prehistory

Browse previous titles in this series on our website

Become a BAR Member

- 20% off all books
- News and offers
- New title information

SCAN TO SUBSCRIBE

Thank you for your interest in the BAR UCL Institute of Archaeology PhD sub-series. We look forward to working with you.

For more information or to submit a proposal, please contact Editorial Director, Jacqueline Senior: editor@barpublishing.com